Hi Team,

In order to simplify the accounting process, we have set up separate Fed Ex accounts for CCA and DCBID. Please use the appropriate account when sending a package. I have ordered pre-printed airbills for CCA that are expected to arrive in 7-10 days that will include our account information. DCBID preprinted airbills can be found in the copy room. I have also ordered laser labels for those of us who prefer to use the online ship feature. I will be doing the same for UPS and will send account info. as soon as both have been set up.
